tom_koch@wgbh.org wgbhinternational.org Four in five Americans say the United States' health-care system needs "fundamental" change. Can the US learn anything from the rest of the world about how to run a health-care system, or are these nations so culturally different from us that their solutions would simply not be acceptable to Americans?

FRONTLINE correspondent T.R. Reid examines first-hand the health-care systems of other advanced capitalist democracies—UK, France, Germany, Switzerland, Japan, and Taiwan—to see what tried and tested ideas might help us reform our broken health-care system.
